Boost

BOISE, Nov. 7 (AP) — The executive secretary of the Idaho Restaurant and Beverage association says liquor sales in Idaho could be boosted by 1.5 million dollars a year if Sunday sales were permitted.

"This is state revenue," said Arthur Murphy in his organization's monthly publication, "which is obtained without cost for its collection since there already are more than 600 licensed premises in Idaho to make the collections."

Murphy, who is a state senator from Shoshone county, introduced in the 1963 legislature a bill which would authorize Sunday sales. It failed to gain approval.

Answers to Damage Suit Are Filed

MOUNTAIN-HOME, Nov. 7 (AP) — An air force officer named in a $250,000 damage suit brought by former Airman Gerald M. Anderson has filed in federal court revised answers to questions asked in connection with the case.

Capt. William T. Early, who was a sergeant at the Mountain Home air force base at the time Anderson was held in custody there on a charge of murder, provided the answers.

Early's original answers to questions asked by Anderson's attorneys were described by the latter as not responsive. The court ordered Early to expand on his answers.

In his revised answers, Early said information he was giving was provided by others and much of it was not based on his own knowledge. He listed many documents which he said he was informed had been received in connection with the Anderson case.

Anderson was accused of killing a Mountain Home housewife and her son. He was released after Theodore Dickie confessed to the slayings. Dickie is now serving a life sentence in the Idaho penitentiary.

Gem Public Health Group Elects Heads

BOISE, Nov. 7 (AP) — C. H. Higer, Emmett, was elected president of the Idaho Public Health association today at concluding sessions of the organization's annual meeting in Boise.

A general membership meeting and a luncheon session for the board of directors wrapped up conference activities for the nearly 50 public health workers from throughout Idaho attending.

Earlier the association heard D. Glenn Oratree, Denver, a veteran biochemist for the U. S. fish and wildlife service, urge development of pesticides and herbicides which would have no adverse effect on wildlife.

He said use of poisons intended to kill insects and weeds is blamed for injury and death to birds, game, and fish.

"Our research has shown," Oratree said, "that DDT seems to have its most fatal effect on rare birds, which has caused much concern among conservationists and bird lovers alike."

The wildlife department is not carrying a torch to prevent the use of pesticides and herbicides. Rather we seek a replacement for DDT and similar chemicals which will be effective and yet not interfere with the biological processes of our fish and wildlife.

Other association officers elected included Jack Jelki, Blackfoot, vice president; Ruby Leonard, Boise, secretary; and Fred Letz, Boise, treasurer.

Named to the board of directors were Leonard Marway, Idaho Falls; Marjorie Schlotterbeck, Boise; Mrs. Florence Abel, Boise; James Worley, Boise; Dr. Luther Thompson, Twin Falls; A. H. McCready, Lewiston; Dr. Roy Eastwood, Lewiston; George Brower, Blackfoot, and Dr. Aron Wible.

In addition to forestry projects, Allan has completed two beef projects, three junior leader three farm electrification, making a total of 10 projects in his eight years of 4-H.

GOP Leaders Agree Image Needs Revision

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP) — Republican leaders agreed today that the GOP needs to revamp its image, but disagreed about when and whether a shakeup should come in the high command under Sen. Barry M. Goldwater.

Cautious language was heard in some segments of the party about Goldwater and GOP national chairman Dean Burch and their conduct of the Republican campaign which ended in the election calamity this week.

Similar language was used in retorts to the liberal and middle of the road Republicans who criticized the campaign. Many party leaders said it was premature to talk about demanding that Goldwater and Burch fade away. There was considerable sentiment that the dust should be allowed to settle before decisions are made about leadership.

This wide range of responses came from Republican leaders questioned by UPI about the future course of the party.

Some wanted former Vice President RICHARD M. Nixon to assume the major responsibility for rebuilding the GOP, perhaps as national chairman. Others said he should play a role but were unwilling to be more specific.

Most refused to speculate about the 1968 presidential nominee. Those who did mentioned Gov. George Romney, who bucked the Democratic tide to win reelection in Michigan this week; Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania; Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon and Nixon. Of those contacted, none suggested Goldwater.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said this week that the "GOP has been hurt by a false image" that its programs were modeled "for the rich and privileged." Scranton said the party had given the impression that it was too exclusive.

Meade Adams of Connecticut, Republican national chairman during the second Eisenhower administration, told UPI:

"The Republican party's image has been badly disfigured by the events at and since San Francisco. The election results confirmed the worst fears expressed by moderate Republican leaders months ago."

"A rebuilding job is absolutely essential and it must start now. We cannot hope to shape future party victories if the rebuilding job is entrusted to the leadership of the Goldwater organization which has brought us the most devastating defeat the party ever suffered."

Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, R., chairman, "We are going to have to work toward a more liberal approach."

Mrs. Reece likes Scranton for the 1968 presidential nomination.

"The image should not come from an individual but from the party's congressional performance," he said.

"We gave the country a choice of liberalism vs. conservatism and they made their choice," said Mrs. Louise Gold Reece, Tennessee member of the GOP national committee and widow of a former national Republican

GOP Doesn't Need 'Coach'

George Bever, fifth district Republican chairman, Twin Falls, said in a news release Saturday that the true Republican party emerged in the recent elections and did not need a new coach.

And, he said, "nearly 27 million Americans dedicated to the real party and its conservative ideals voted for Barry Goldwater."

Bever was critical of the "so-called moderates" and liberals in the GOP who "want conservative members to retire from positions of leadership—which were liberal wing this year."

He said the 27 million Americans who voted for Goldwater "was only about seven million less than voted for Richard Nixon in 1960."

"In spite of Lyndon Johnson's landslide, the GOP showed nothing to be ashamed about. It was a start—and 27 million votes is a powerful and sturdy base. He said that this number represents the majority of the Republican party."

The GOP chairman said "the Republican liberals for some reason cannot understand that they simply do not offer the people a real choice. If the GOP continually echoes the liberal line, there will never be a choice. Conservatives are trying to stem the socialist sleigh ride—not endorse it or expand on it."

Continuing, he said, "Conservatives want less power concentrated in Washington—not more. It is that simple—people are entitled to a choice, and if both parties are liberal, they are robbed of their choice."

In answer to a recent statement by Gov. Robert Smylie, Bever said that Republicans "do not need a new coach, as has been suggested." He said that all the party needs is for more energy on the part of those who claim to be Republicans. "There were too many half-hearted efforts the past election by some of the so-called star players," he declared. "That's where the blame was—not on the coach."

Bever said that too many Republicans did too much "posturing and too many feet on the ground in direct contrast to Barry Goldwater who gave 100 per cent support to the party in previous years regardless of who the candidates were."

The GOP district chairman complimented Idaho Republicans for the showing they made in the election. "No one can say we were buried in the landslide," he declared. He stated that the Idaho segment of the party is "viciously pro strong" and declared that he is "particularly proud of the hard and devoted work which went on" in the eight counties in the Magic Valley.

It paid off in results, he said, citing the victory of George Hanson for the U.S. senate.

"This is fertile Republican grassroots territory—and every voter and worker is to be commended highly and congratulated warmly. We all worked to win and in this area, we won. Of that I am enormously proud."

Bever said he hopes an intra-party fight can be avoided and said he doesn't think conservative should retreat from their principles.

"I do think that with assistance from all concerned, we can face the future with confidence. Just because we lost battle on Tuesday, we have by no means lost the war."

"It seems to me that at long last, the real Republican party has just begun to fight. I suggest we chart a course of united, reasonable Republicanism. With team efforts," he concluded, "Republicans can win."

Units Display Complete Treasury of Hand Crafts

BY NORMA HERZINGER

If you have ever doubted the abilities and ingenuities of a woman, let me tell you—they are terrific. This was well illustrated at the Twin Falls county Extension Homemakers council annual Christmas idea program held at the Filer Grange hall.

A complete treasury of gifts, all handmade, but looking store-bought, were displayed and demonstrated at this annual event. Extension Homemakers groups from throughout the county participated and unveiled the extraordinary to the sample in Christmas gift suggestions and decorations.

A personal handmade gift is often so appreciated and if you've been wondering what to get for that individual who is so hard to choose for, this was the place to have been.

Items are not discovered, they are originated. This was evident as each club chose one special item to demonstrate for other club members and guests. Each club was represented with several displays to be viewed before the meeting, although only one special item was kept back to be displayed and a demonstration given on how to make it.

Kim Sen group was in charge of the registration from 11 a.m. to noon. A potluck luncheon was served at noon.

Mrs. Helen Walker gave a demonstration on Christmas breads of various types. Mrs. Agnes Hurst, Twin Falls, county Extension home agent, gave a report on the annual Extension-Homemakers convention she attended in Hawaii.

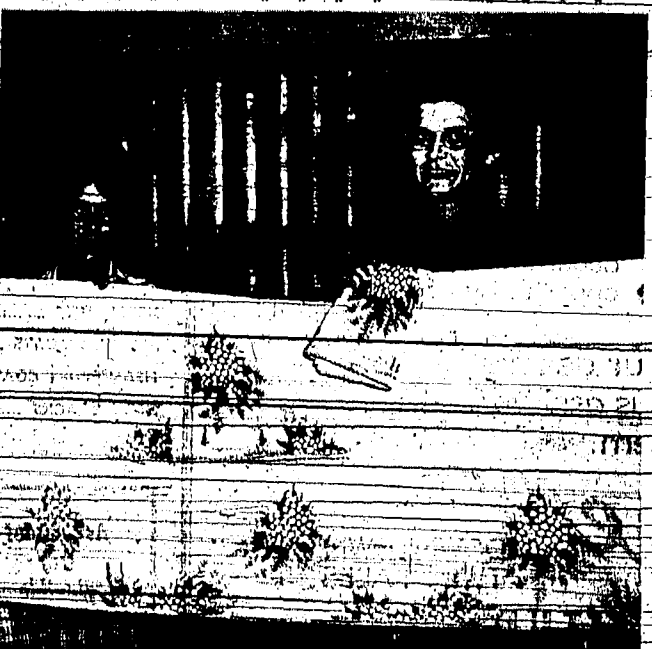

Demonstrations were given by the following clubs: Country Falls, ribbon chrysanthemums and satin fruit; Salmon Tract-Homemakers, sheets with a border made of handkerchiefs; Kim Sen, pin cushions; Syringa, cats made from bottles and light bulbs; Merry Marrieds, comb cleaner made from rope; Merry Marrieds, bird cage made with gold crochet thread and artificial flowers; Cheerful Matrons, chickens made with colorful seeds and beans; Modern Mrs., purse holder and Christmas tree made from McCall magazine; Community Y-Wives and Town and Country, sewing baskets and Barbie doll clothes.

A "tasting" table was not up complete with recipes. Each taste-tempting dish was prepared in bite-size pieces and sampled by all. If the particular dish was to their liking, they could buy the recipe. Money raised from the recipes will be used for the state convention.

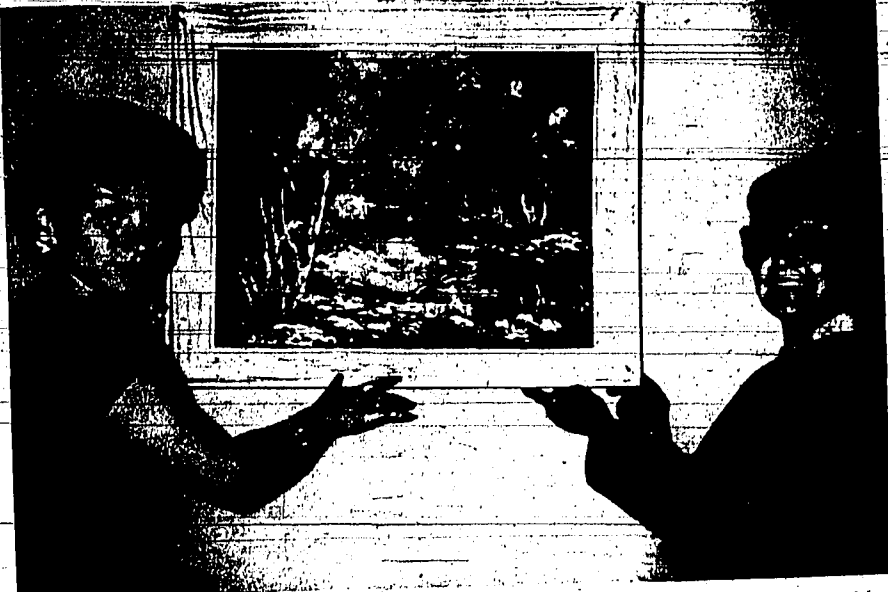

Committees in charge of arrangements for the event include kitchen committee, Modern Mrs. and Neighborhood club; cleanup, Syringa and Salmon Tract-Homemakers; table decoration, Town and Country, and displays, Merry Marrieds.

A Beauty Hint

Margaret Marshall advises that it is quite simple for every woman to promote an English countryside complexion. Her hint to gain a peachy-and-crisp loveliness is to dampen a cloth with cold water "from your refrigerator and press it over your face for a few minutes once or twice a day. Then, to hold the good of the complexion-beautifying cold-water smooch on a little tropical oil of olay. This oil is rather scarce and expensive but your drug store should be able to get you a small supply.

BOISE EDGES T.F.; BUHL BATTERS FILER

Braves Move 79 Yards for Score To Cop 14-13 Win

BOISE, Nov. 7.—The Boise Braves moved 79 yards in four plays on the passing of Perry Gossett in the closing minutes last night to overhaul the upset-minded Twin Falls Bruins 14-13. The Braves, who were a two-touchdown favorite, fell behind 13-0 midway through the second quarter and didn't forge in front until 3:09 was left in the game.

Meanwhile, Twin Falls' Scott Strong, held to 51 yards and the lowest rushing mark of the season, pushed his total yards rushing to 1,028 in his career span.

The big play for Twin Falls was a 66-yard punt that set up the first Twin Falls score. That came early in the second period but Twin Falls then made the fatal mistake of missing the point after and that cost the Bruins a tie for the second time in as many weeks.

Lynch's run-carried to the Boise six-yard line and Strong finally went in from two yards out.

It played like that until the third quarter when Twin Falls recovered a loose fumble at the Boise 16-yard line. Twin Falls picked up some help in a Boise fumble but was still three yards away on fourth down. While Boise concentrated on stopping the play, quarterback John Aspinwall straightened up and fired a touchdown strike to Larry Satterwhite. Fox converted.

But Boise started coming back immediately. On the ensuing kickoff, Rich Dixon took the ball at his 10-yard line and raced 81 yards for a touchdown. Kent Scott converted.

Twin Falls got the return kickoff back only to the 10-yard line but then appeared picking up momentum. The drive ended in a fumble but at the 30-yard line two passes fell incomplete and Boise took over.

Gossett hit Scott for gains of 20 and 15 yards and then fired a nine-yarder to Dickson. Then he fired the tying touchdown strike 35 yards to Larson and Scott booted the decisive point after.

Arkansas Is 21-0 Winner Over Rice

Another oddity occurred in the Twin Falls-Pocatello sophomore game. With Twin Falls winning handily, a little discussion broke out in the crowd over the outcome. The game was a 21-0 victory for Twin Falls.

The best block of the year award goes to Twin Falls' Frank Fox. Frobie was the block was applied to the line of scrimmage in the second quarter.

The "head shrinker" statement that draws kudos comes from Gooding's Jim Wallace, who watched Junior tailback Rod Hammond pass and run the sensation to another Big Eight conference championship.

There is no diet award, but if there were, Jerome's coach Darrell Moore would get it. He's lost 25 pounds this season and still faces the Veterans' day showdown with the Bruins.

Pilots Build 28-0 Half Lead, Outlast Wendell for 35-18 Win

WENDELL, Nov. 7.—The Glenns Ferry Pilots scored on the first and last play of the opening half in building up a 28-0 lead and then withstood a determined bunch of Wendell Trojans to post a 35-18 Big Eight conference victory last night. The Trojans, who came back to dominate the second half, cut the margin to 28-18 in the fourth quarter only to see the Pilots score on a long pass in the final minute.

The game was only seconds old when Glenns Ferry moved in front 7-0. Ernie Johnson took the opening kickoff and rambled 81 yards for a touchdown and Jim Blair converted. The Pilots then held Wendell at bay with a 30-yard line and followed up with a 70-yard drive to a 14-0 lead capped by sneaking for the last yard. Johnson converted.

In the second period Jim Schwegler skirted out for eight yards and the third Glenns Ferry touchdown. On the final play of the half, Wendell tried to pass. Blair blitzed the Wendell quarterback who attempted a swing pass. Blair intercepted it before it went two yards and sprinted 24 yards to paydirt. Johnson converted.

But after that it was mostly Wendell. Grant Willard put Wendell on the scoreboard in the third quarter with a 14-0 yard sprint that started up the middle and ended up swinging outwide to daylight.

Two plays after the 'kickoff' Glenns Ferry fumbled and Bob Brunell recovered for the Trojans. Minutes later, Dan Peterson lofted a 17-yard touchdown strike to Mike Powell, who was standing in the end zone.

Wendell immediately took possession, when an on-side kick worked but this time the Pilots held. Four plays later the Pilots punted and Wendell went on another march. Von Nebeker converted a 24-yard drive to get the last 10 yards.

Glenns Ferry replied with a drive that resulted in the final score of the game. It came on a 28-yard aerial from Blair to Schwegler. Halvick converted.

USC Takes Seventh Win From Indians

BRANFORD, Calif., Nov. 7.—Southern California whipped Stanford for the seventh straight time today as fleet Mike Garrett raced for one touchdown and smashed for another in a 15-10 victory keeping alive the Trojan Rose bowl hopes.

The Pacific Athletic Conference triumph belonged as much to USC as to Stanford.

First, Cadigan threw a 35-yard touchdown pass with 28 seconds remaining in the first half to narrow Oregon's early lead to 13-7. Then he ran 75 yards for the final WSU touchdown.

It gave the visitors a 21-13 lead—a somewhat late-coming victory. The first half to the 13-7 then he ran 75 yards for the final WSU touchdown.

Indians Fashion 27-20 Win Behind Stout Line Play

FILER, Nov. 7.—Seniors Clark Griffin and Mike Pierce, with timely assists from Harley Bennett, sparked the Buhl offensive machine in the second half yesterday and carried the Indians to a 27-20 victory over the Filer Wildcats. Although Filer scored an early touchdown, the difference came in the line where Buhl was dominant. Griffin turned to the air for some yardage but the play ended in a fumble. A long yardage punt was a quick pitch to Bennett, who turned them into key gains with nifty running. The game ended in a fumble. A long yardage punt was a quick pitch to Bennett, who turned them into key gains with nifty running. The game ended in a fumble.

Nothing helped. Filer started the game with a bang, hitting Buhl on a fourth down play for a 40-yard line. Steve Sharp passed to Mike Touchette for 27 yards and Touchette for 17 yards in the next two carries to put the ball at the one-yard line. A penalty sent the ball back to the six-yard line and Buhl held. But the drive still paid off.

On the second play after taking over Buhl fired a belly series play. Griffin faked to the fullback, without the ball and started to hand off to the halfback. It was the wrong halfback.

Filer's Gordon Pedrow broke through to steal the ball and fall into the end zone. Buhl drove to the Filer 27-yard line after the kickoff but was stopped at the 24. Filer fumbled back on the next play. Pierce recovered for Buhl. In three plays Pierce boomed in from the one. It remained 6-6 at halftime.

But in the second half, State's defense allowed him to complete only six of 18 and they intercepted twice.

Brothers, meanwhile, was completing seven in the second half, winning up with 18 of 30 for the day.

Indiana never led, but got a chance to go in front on the first play of the second half. Oregon State's Cliff Watkins fumbled the kickoff and Bob DeBentzen recovered on the State 33.

But Buhl came right back on the throwing of Griffin to transfer end Jim Lewis. The first was a 12-yarder that overcame a fourth and eight situation and two plays later the same combination hit for 17 yards and the touchdown. Griffin to Lewis got the point after.

After intercepting a Filer pass but not to punt. That set up a spectacular way for Filer to punt on the 10-yard line, picked up three key blocks in attempting the right sideline and was escorted the full 80 yards to paydirt by

Michigan Has Breaks to Rip Illini 21-6

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 7.—A pair of second period touchdowns, following an intercepted pass and fumble recovery, lifted Michigan to a 21-6 victory over Illinois today.

The Wolverines, held without a first down in the first quarter.

got their second period touchdowns on a 15-yard run by Carl Davis and a 24-yard pass from Tim Timmerman to Jim Delaney.

The first score was set up by a pass interception by Frank Nunley on the Illinois 33.

Michigan marched 40 yards to its second touchdown after Delaney and Mader covered a fumble.

two teammates. No Indian touched him. But that came with 1:04 left in the game and Buhl hardly minded it.

Late ISU Score Beats Montana

MISSOULA, Nov. 7 (P)—A 28-yard scoring pass play with 2 1/2 minutes left to play gave Idaho State freshmen a 23-20 football victory over the Montana Grizzlies yesterday.

Quarterback Bill Brazier, whose 31-yard field goal in the third quarter constituted the winning margin, passed to John Figueroa for the final touchdown.

Both teams scored twice in the wild first quarter. Dick Marjolla went 33 yards on a 47-yard kickoff return by MSU's Willie Jones and the Grizzlies' first touchdown. Pullback Joe Campbell plunged three yards for the second score of the period.

ISU went ahead on Brazier's field goal but a 70-yard scoring pass from MSU quarterback Francis Quenzler to end Greg Hansen gave the visitors a 30-14 deficit they waited until the final minutes to overcome.

Alabama Rallies to Nip LSU

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 7 (P)—Alabama unleashed its famed defense in the second half today to beat Louisiana State 17-9 and win the Southeastern conference football championship.

Alabama	LSU
First downs	14

Passing yards	174
Passes	15-40
Passes intercepted	7-10

The drive that set up the field goal started when an Alabama defender intercepted a Pat Sorenson pass on the Grappon-Tide 22. This was the first pass Sorenson had picked off in 52 losses this season.

Alabama made it clear quickly that it had given up on trying to run on the Tiger line, which outweighed the Tide forward wall 25 yards to the main Quarterback Steve Sloan passed to Ray Ogden for another first down and 'Duffin came to life. The Tide moved the ball to the LSU 24 but then lost three yards on the next play to make it fourth and about 3 1/2 yards for the first down. Ray then came in and hit the uprights with a perfect kick.

Alabama rallied it away with 7:44 to go when Hudson Harris picked off another screen pass and raced 33 yards down the sidelines for the touchdown. The reliable toe of Ray made it 17-9.

Alabama's defense killed two LSU scoring drives in the shadow of the Crimson Tide goalposts today in the last five minutes of play.

Syracuse Gets Early Score to Trigger 27-15 Win Over Army

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 (AP) — Syracuse threw 51 yards to a touchdown after the opening kickoff and went on to a 27-15 victory over Army today that kept alive the Orange hopes for Eastern football honors and a bowl bid.

Len Hall, chairman of the Orange bowl committee, was among the crowd of 37,562 at Yankee stadium that saw Syracuse's powerful race horse backs—Floyd Little, Walley Mahle and Jim Nance—grind out two fourth period scores after Army had gone ahead 15-14 on a break and a gamble in the third.

"We're definitely interested in Syracuse for the Miami game," Hall said afterward.

Little, the 100-pound sophomore who wears the "44" number, was the key player.

PENN STATE STUNS BUCKEYES, IRISH WIN

Lions Completely Dominate Play in Taking 27-0 Win

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7 (AP)—Penn State's four-time losers turned Ohio State's second-ranked juggernaut into a stumbling, fumbling giant today and beat the highly favored Bucks 27-0 in what must go into the books as the season's biggest upset. The Nittany Lions, in winning their fourth in four starts against the Bucks annihilated both the offense and the defense of coach Woody Hayes' Big Ten conference leaders.

Wyoming and Utahs Battle To 20-20 Tie

LOGAN, Nov. 7 (AP)—Wyoming back George Squires kicked his second field goal of the game with three seconds remaining today to give the Cowboys a 20-20 tie with Utah State.

The 21-yard kick proved a heartbreaker for the 11,000 fans who had watched Utah State back from a 17-7 half-time deficit to take the lead. It was the final home game for Utah State.

Utah State scored all three touchdowns on passes. Rudy Curina threw two touchdowns to Jack Clark in the first quarter.

Wyoming's Don McElroy scored on a 34-yard run in the first quarter. The Cowboys scored again in the second quarter on a 24-yard pass play from quarterback Nick Eloff to Darrell Allen.

Texas Pass in Last Seconds Beats Baylor

WACO, Tex., Nov. 7 (AP)—George Bauer leaped high in the end zone to snare a desperation pass from Marvin Kratzynik with one minute, 56 seconds remaining today to win for Texas over Baylor.

Baylor, crushed by Texas for three quarters, rose up in the fourth quarter for two quick touchdowns off the passing arm of Terry Boulhall.

That put Baylor ahead 14-13 and with only 4:48 left in the game, it appeared that the Bears had upset the nation's No. 1 team.

Then Kratzynik went to work on his own net, gaining yardage by enough aerial yardage to help Texas 50 yards to the Baylor 24.

At that point, the Longhorn hurler found Bauer almost alone 40 yards deep in the end zone and tossed to him for the winning score.

Wildcats Stay On Ground to Top Badgers

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 7 (AP)—Northwestern stuck to a battling ground game highlighted by Ron Hector's 61-yard touchdown run, and ended a five-game losing streak with a 17-13 Big Ten triumph over Wisconsin today.

The Wildcats' claw-out of this conference game with the league leader, leaving Wisconsin in the basement with 1-4.

Star passer Tommy Myers tossed only nine Northwestern touchdowns in the first half.

Utah State scored all three touchdowns on passes. Rudy Curina threw two touchdowns to Jack Clark in the first quarter.

Wyoming's Don McElroy scored on a 34-yard run in the first quarter. The Cowboys scored again in the second quarter on a 24-yard pass play from quarterback Nick Eloff to Darrell Allen.

Iowa Misses 2-Point Play, Gophers Win

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 7 (AP)—Minnesota's strong rush thwarted a two-point conversion attempt by Iowa in the closing minutes today and preserved a 14-13 Big Ten victory for the Gophers.

Hayes' sharpshooter Clay Snook fired an 87-yard pass with less than two minutes to go but missed his target on the conversion try after being boxed in by the Minnesota defense.

Snook's late bomb to quarterback Craig Nourse capped a game of dramatic counter-attacks that saw the Gophers turn the tide twice when Iowa appeared ready to take command.

Snook went for the victory after Nourse had fielded his pass at the Iowa 35 and out-primed three Gopher defenders to score.

Snook got covered by the Gopher defense, however, and couldn't spot flanker Karl Noonan in the end zone for the conversion. Snook's pass sailed high over Noonan's head and into the end zone.

Jacobs Leads Utah Over BYU by 47-13

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 7 (AP)—Fullback Allen Jacobs plunged across for four touchdowns this afternoon as Utah crushed downstate rival Brigham Young 47-13, and gained a tie for the Western Athletic conference football crown.

Both Utah and New Mexico now stand 9-1 in WAC play with no more conference games left. The Utes scored easily in every quarter of a game marked by sloppy play on both sides.

Jacobs ran for three touchdowns in a row after halfback Ron Coleman began the Utah scoring attack in the first quarter with a 60-yard run.

Two of Jacobs' short plunges into the end zone came in the second quarter, with the third soon after the second half began. Jacobs' 107-pound fullback danced and tumbled his way 36 yards along the sidelines a few minutes later, setting up Utah's fifth touchdown.

Quarterback Richard Groth then carried the ball over from the one. Jacobs, still in the third quarter, plunged across again for the next Ute score.

BYU's defense scored both Cougar touchdowns. Utah wingback Andy Ireland fumbled a BYU punt in the second quarter and Cougar wingback Doug Schow, twin falls, pounced on the ball as it tumbled into the Ute end zone.

Georgia Is Upset Winner Over Florida

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 7 (AP)—Kicking specialist Bob Eiler ran for a touchdown on a muffed punt today as Georgia upset nationally ranked Florida 14-7.

Eiler was standing at the Florida 12 on fourth down, ready to try a field goal with the score tied and less than nine minutes to play.

When the center snap eluded end Barry Wilson, in to hold for the kick, Eiler kicked up the ball and looked for some one to pass to. Then he saw daylight to the goal and ran into the end zone before the Florida defense recovered.

Fumbles set up the Georgia touchdowns, both scored in the fourth quarter. The Bulldogs had to go only 30 yards on their first scoring drive and 21 yards on their second.

Georgia's 25 pass completions in 30 attempts broke the Naval academy single game record of 19 completions that he set against Notre Dame last week.

Notre Dame Gets Big Lead, Stops Pitt Rally 17-15

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7 (AP)—Top-ranked Notre Dame, led by darling John Huarte, built up a 14-0 first period lead and then fought off the inspired Pitt Panthers today for a 17-15 football victory. It was unbeaten Notre Dame's defense, yielding almost as many yards rushing as it had in their first six games combined, which stayed off possible defeat in the end.

The Irish forward wall rose up to stop Pitt quarterback Steve Mrazek for no gain on a fourth-and-one situation in the last quarter on the Notre Dame 16.

It was Huarte, Notre Dame's record-breaking quarterback, who gave the 39th-ranked team the lead in the third quarter. On third down on his own nine in the first quarter, Huarte faded into the end zone and passed to halfback Nick Eddy, who caught the ball on his 38 yard run. He booted a 20-yard field goal in the third quarter.

Pitt's first touchdown came in the second period and was set up when end Brian Comerford recovered a fumble by Pete Andreotti on the Pitt 32.

The Panthers moved to the 18 and were going to try a field goal but Notre Dame was offside. On the next play fullback Harry McKnight rammed 10 yards to the one. He then plunged over for the score. He also ran for two points to make it 14-0.

Pitt's second touchdown came on the first play of the final period with McKnight barreling over from the one. Jim Jones converted.

LAWRENCE, Kans., Nov. 7 (AP)—Unbeaten Nebraska took charge in the Big Eight by beating stubborn Kansas 14-7 today on Bob Churchich's passing. Bob Churchich's passing, Bob Churchich's passing and the clutch play of the defensive unit.

Kansas came back for a tie in six plays, the first a 63-yard pass from Bob Skinner to Mike Johnson. Ron Oelschlaeger scored from the three.

Huffing, Puffing, Noise Part of Music Making

BY O. A. (GUS) KELLER
Times-News Feature Editor
They huff and they puff—they draw the bow across the taut strings, they beat the drums, they pucker up and make the horns sound, they scan the music and they peek at the director as they go along — and they do it all for free.
This, in effect, is a thumbnail sketch of members of the Twin Falls Civic Symphony orchestra. They practice on stated nights at the band room in the Twin Falls high school. They watch their leader, Del Slaughter, and school.
—The walls echo back the efforts of the faithful. To the untrained ears it is something to hear, but not, often, understood. These practice sessions, they are trained ear — like that of the director — the sound means that all is progress and everything will be "just so" for the opening concert of the sixth season for the group.
The date is Tuesday, Nov. 24, and the place is the auditorium mountains which skirt around it — it is all for free.
Interesting thing about all this is that members come from other communities than Twin Falls. They also come from Kimberly, Hansen, Piler, Buhl and Burley. They drive into town on practice nights and then travel the weary way home at a late hour — all this after a day's work at their regular job.
The time and talent is donated. Like the fresh air of this Magic Valley, like the snow-capped mountains which skirt around it — it is all for free.

ORIGINAL PETITION signed by backers of Ulysses S. Grant when he ran for the presidency in 1868 is the prized possession of a Carey couple, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Twombly. They found it hanging in the carriage shed on the estate of his grandmother.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

From among the many priceless family relics which were on the estate of Mrs. Abbie Nute at Dover, N.H., an original petition signed by backers of Ulysses Simpson Grant when he ran for the presidency of the United States in 1868 was one kept by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Twombly, CAREY. The petition was found hanging in the carriage shed on the estate in 1950 when the Twomblys moved west. Mrs. Nute was Twombly's grandmother and the petition was of particular interest because it was signed by several members of the family. "Schuyler Colfax was Grant's running mate in this election and the two served together," says Joseph W. Field, HATLEY, who knows the history of every political campaign in the United States.

Twombly operates a service station in Carey and Mrs. Twombly, a registered nurse and native Idahoan who married while attending college in the east and persuaded her husband to come west, is public health nurse here. They plan to have the petition framed as the paper is starting to crack.

SHOSHONE residents are watching with interest and appreciation the improvements being made at the late Rhea Corwin residence on the south edge of the city. Since Mr. Corwin died in 1958, the property has been left stand with little care and weeds and debris have piled up to make the history of construction of that alone could prove an interesting story. It is still sturdy and attractive.

Litigation over the property has been in effect since 1958, another story in itself and as interesting as all else that goes with this particular property. The state of Idaho felt it was an interesting case, also, because it is listed as the first case, page one, June, 1963 to Feb., 1964, report-of-cases record.

These are cases argued and determined in the state supreme court. This case is entitled "In the Matter of the Estate of Thomas Rhea Corwin, deceased." In Corwin, Bruner, guardian ad litem for Kathleen Corwin Bruner, a minor, petitioner-appellant, vs. Harry B. Corwin, executor-appellee.

Rehearing was denied by the supreme court July 29, 1963, and as the record states the case "involved interpretation of a holographic will" made by Thomas Rhea Corwin, the ruling on which in probate court of Lincoln county was appealed to district court, then, appealed from the district judge's ruling to the state supreme court.

The file is now back, with many documents added, to its final resting place in probate court of Lincoln county. In telling about his feelings for the place and Shoshone at large, Rosecrans states it isn't that the unusual history of this house that has interested him in Shoshone. He says, "Shoshone is unique

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Nov. 7 (AP)—The park service Friday reported the south and east entrances into Wyoming are closed and will no longer be maintained this year.

The park itself has already been closed. The roads between West Yellowstone and Old Faithful and between Old Faithful and Gardiner are still open, but no longer maintained. Motorists are cautioned to carry chains or snow tires.

The road between Gardiner and Cooke City is open and will be maintained throughout the winter season.

The Hearlock highway between Cooke City and Red Lodge is closed.

Gem State Can Thank California Plan For Agency to Protect Idaho Water

agencies at the point of distribution. If it hadn't been for California, it's likely this amendment may never have reached an Idaho ballot. As it turned out, it did, and California has been notified to drop a multitude of plans to borrow water from Idaho.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie appealed to the voters to approve the amendment not only for its soundness but in face of the repeated California plans to tap the Snake River and commit water to California.

The whole issue of Idaho vs. California over water lasted about a year.

It started one Saturday in October of 1963 when the metropolitan water district of Los Angeles announced a proposed plan, that was complete with maps, to siphon water overland from the Snake river at Twin Falls in southcentral Idaho to Lake Meade for storage and use.

The cry that went up in Idaho that day was unlike anything heard in the state since Chief Joseph, a hundred years earlier, led the army on a merry two-state, three-year chase. California had become overnight a distrusted neighbor, a chicken thief for suddenly making advances for a precious Idaho commodity—water.

This cry echoed from the governor's office down to the irrigator.

But the MWD and California officials went on with the first plan as though Idaho was still a sleeping dog. Since that first plan, there have been several others promoted in Los Angeles and Sacramento for the dog's bone. Meetings were suddenly held between Golden State and Gem officers. Meetings were held in Sacramento and Washington, D.C., over the issue. Eventually California backed down on its bold water drafting plans, but tenaciously clung to the idea.

Smylie then suggested that if California wanted water, the Columbia River at Portland should be outfitted with a submersible pipe to carry fresh water into the Pacific to California's northern coast. He reasonably argued that this was truly excess water that ran from the North west into the ocean day and night long.

Then, he created a 31-member panel to draft a change to the Idaho Constitution to create the water resources agency. "The recommendation of this high-powered panel was accepted wholeheartedly at the polls Tuesday, and now Idaho has a water agency and is in the public water and power business."

Garden Clubs of Twin Falls, Jerome Gain Top Sears Award for Projects

April showers bring May flowers—and the early winter flowers sometimes bring better than that. It brings rewards in the form of cold cash.

This axiom was realized this week by two organizations concerned with the gardening and beautification situation—in this area when the cold cash was given to officers of Bears-Robuck and company, through Jack Shaw, manager of the Twin Falls store.

The awards totaled $300 with the Twin Falls Garden club pulling down a check for $250 and the Jerome Leaf and Petal club, Jerome, picking up $50.

The award to the Twin Falls club was for use in proposed landscaping of the new YMCA-YWCA building grounds. Plans for this proposal were entered by the Twin Falls club in state competition with the special Sears-Robuck company community improvement fund. Total profit by Sears on a statewide basis came to $2,000.

The Jerome organization took the $50 award for plans calling for construction of a "fragrance garden" at the state school for the deaf and blind, Gooding.

Construction of such a garden has been the dream of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roberson, Hagerman, for the past seven years. Mrs. Roberson has become famous nationwide for her herb garden.

They have raised the aromatic plants and shrubs and the goes to be used at Gooding. Each plant will have distinctive textures and smells for exploring fingers of students. For each plot will also have its own "fragrance" marker.

The garden will consist of a plot 60 by 60 feet, surrounded by a wall of rock, making the raised flower bed a "fragrance garden." There also will be pockets in the wall for special plants which will give off strong fragrance when brushed against.

Last year the Jerome club received a $500 award from Sears for work at the nursing home at Jerome. The Gooding garden is expected to be completed next spring with aid of Mrs. Harry Morris and members of the high school "garden" group.

In Twin Falls work on beautification of the YMCA-YWCA grounds also is expected to start in the spring. The money team Sears will be placed with additional funds for the project. Improvements at first will be concentrated on the area in front of the building.

Next fund raising session for the Twin Falls group will be at the O'Leary Junior high school at 8 p.m. Dec. 2 at which time a bid flower arrangement from Merced, Calif., will be presented.

For the Twin Falls club, other plans call for future construction of a rose garden at Front street.

"We will use the Sears money award to good advantage and we are most honored to have received it," said Mrs. T. W. Hicks, president.

Idaho GOP Scores Victory Despite National Defeat

BY KEN ROBINSON
Associated Press Writer

BOISE, Nov. 7 (AP)—Idaho's divided Republican party came through Tuesday's election with its strongest showing in six years, suggesting that the political pendulum in the state is swinging back toward the GOP.

By capturing the legislature, the party also put itself in a position to strengthen its political hand, providing divergent elements can get together for a solid front.

But the party faces a pitfall. The legislative results improved the chances of approval of a sales tax but a sales tax might hurt GOP chances of retaining the governorship and winning other state offices in 1966.

Although President Johnson carried the staff by 5,000 votes, there was little for Democrats to be pleased about.

They lost the second district congressional seat, saw the usually strong Democratic margin in the first district sliced to 3,548 votes and not only failed to capture either house of the legislature, but failed to make gains.

Although the Republicans had been divided before the campaign, they all worked to win, with few exceptions.

Republicans also worked hard. The old party regulars and the new workers drawn into the party by Sen. Barry Goldwater's candidacy canvassed the precincts door to door more effectively than in the past.

Legislative candidates also got out and knocked on doors.

George Hansen in the second district lit a spark among tea workers, and with his big smile and incessant handshaking, he demonstrated the power of person-to-person campaigning. By the end of the campaign his handshake had become almost a reflex.

Hansen's victory over Rep. Ralph Harding, was scored in Ada county where his 5,000 plus majority equaled his district-wide margin. The GOP nominee of 1962, Orval Hansen, carried the county by only 2,890 votes.

Party people in the county convinced Hansen in the closing weeks that a bigger effort was needed. They raised money to pay for a television program, for newspaper ads, and for a letter mailed to 30,000 persons.

Rep. Robert E. Stewart and Sen. Lan U. Jordan, the party's major leaders, were in a position to claim part of the credit.

Stymie, as the spokesman for political moderation in the party, won vindication by the Goldwater defeat nationally. At the same time, he endorsed the Arizona senator, and worked on his behalf.

The legislative victory could be considered an affirmation of support for Stymie's administration. His water agency proposal was popular with the voters.

Jordan appeared in 37-county

Democrats could have a hard time finding a new face who could beat him. Hansen this time had the advantage of his 1962 senate primary race.

Whether they shift Ada county or not, Republicans are in a position to make the kind of shift that might help them most among GOP legislators.

In reorganizing the legislature, Republicans also have the majorities to try to find a formula to insure continued GOP majorities, but lawmakers from each county are likely to have a different view, and it will be hard to win agreement.

DEER WINTER RANGE such as this on the Boise river drainage near Lucky Peak reservoir sometimes concentrates more animals than the available browse shrubs and plants can support properly. Management, via public hunting, uses planned removal to put the venison where people can use it rather than let starvation take the crop. Deer management in Idaho has produced an upward trend in annual harvests, from 2,000 deer in 1920 to 60,000 or more in modern times. (Fish-Game photo)

Deer Management Often Means People Must Be Educated to Nature's Role

BY JIM HUMPHREY

Idaho fish-game department BOISE, Nov. 7.—"The trouble with deer is people," says Ted Truitt, game manager, conservation writer, in the current issue of a national outdoor magazine. The not-so-original remark is attributed to Thomas L. Kimball, one of the country's top game management people and executive secretary of the National Wildlife Federation.

The quotation points to the real problems in deer management: revolve more around management of people than they do around deer themselves.

Truitt's article reviews deer history in North America in general and in a dozen or so individual states in particular. He points out that deer management in Idaho has produced an upward trend in annual harvests from 2,000 deer in 1920 to 60,000 or more in modern times.

He also emphasizes that this has been possible mainly because Idaho hunters throughout most of the state's history have taken deer of both sexes, a practice now recognized as basic to proper deer management.

A bit of probing into Idaho's past will show outdoormen that the good hunting they enjoy today is partly due to practical early days. A short trial with a "buck only" law in Idaho at about the time of World War I met with general disfavor.

While the relation between deer biology and management probably wasn't generally recognized then, this experience nevertheless set the stage for flexible regulations which have given Idaho a leading place in annual deer harvests in recent years. To say nothing of its usual top ranking in number of elk harvested.

Other states weren't so fortunate and some of them are still trying to sell the kind of deer seasons which Idaho hunters have enjoyed for many years.

Wildlife managers everywhere have the same general goal—to maintain as large a deer population as the range will support, and to allow enough hunting so that deer remaining after the season will come through the winter in such condition that maximum productivity will result in the following year.

Maximum productivity in deer can reach or exceed 40 per cent each year if deer nutrition is at its best. The main problem involves keeping winter deer herds at such numbers that the animals, and the forage which supports them, are in satisfactory condition when spring arrives.

Research aimed at producing quality deer hunting for the ever-increasing crowd of hunters

Robert Pence, Buhl Banker, Feels Banking Offers Career Opportunities

BUHL, Nov. 7.—Banking is rewarding work and offers career opportunities for aspiring young men of the community, emphasizes Robert V. Pence, local bank official.

The 46-year old executive has worked 18 years in the bank and currently is serving as manager of the Buhl branch of the Idaho First National Bank. He has attained a career for himself in addition to having the opportunity to see many young men become successful leading citizens. They have been trained in the local bank and have been transferred and now retain posts as either an officer or chief clerk in various branches throughout the state.

Pence commended Buhl residents who are always patient and bear with the bank as new personnel go through the training stage. The old saying that a small community has nothing to offer its young people is slightly exaggerated, he said, as careers are available especially in the banking field.

Pence started in the Buhl branch as a bookkeeper in 1946, became assistant manager in 1952 and was promoted to manager in 1959. He completed a number of courses through the American Institute of Banking and is presently taking a course with the University of Washington-Pacific Coast Banking school. He is a past president of the South Central Idaho Bankers association.

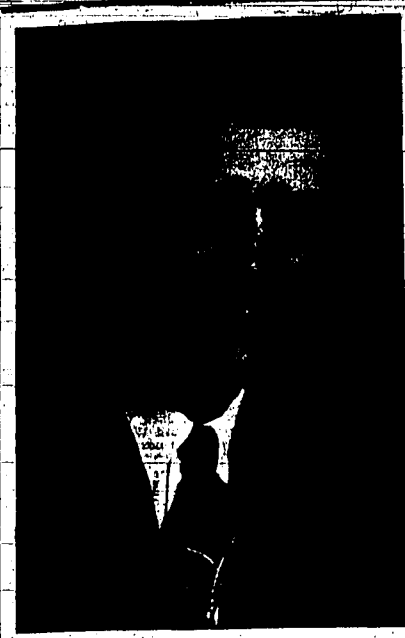

A native of Buhl, he attended Buhl schools and was graduated from the local high school. While in high school he served as student body president and was active in sports. During World War II he served three years with the U.S. marine corps.

Pence points out too many people are eager to give money but very few are willing to contribute their time to a worthwhile cause. Giving of oneself and time in service to a cause is just as valuable as money, he stated.

In keeping with this philosophy Pence has kept active in Buhl civic and community affairs and for his efforts received the Buhl Jaycee distinguished service Junior citizen award in 1959.

He is a member of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce, served 10 years on the Buhl school board and is currently serving on the local selective service draft board. He has held various offices and is a past president of the Buhl Kiwanis club and is slated to receive his ten year perfect attendance pin from the club.

Turning to the discussion of

young people of today Pence has nothing but praise for them. He feels the youth of today have a better philosophy of life and are more intelligent than youths of his generation.

Interest in youth has led him to serve as adult adviser for the Buhl high school Key club and he and his wife serve as advisers of the Yola Sigma frontman-nophomore youth group of the First Christian church. In addition he is serving as Buhl school superintendent, and devotes time to serving on the church board.

Pence is married to the former Imogene Love; Buhl. They have three children, Cindy, 16; Craig, 12; and Karen, 12. The Pence's reside on an 80-acre ranch northeast of Buhl. He lists as his hobbies hunting and fishing and enjoys family trips to their cabin at Ensey's.

Students will receive their report cards Wednesday and a form which they are to fill out giving their classroom schedules. Parents are urged to attend and follow their son or daughter's classroom schedule.

Many Effects Forecast for Idaho Ballot

BY KEN ROBINSON
BOISE, Nov. 7 (AP)—The results of Tuesday's election in Idaho will have far-reaching effects over the next two years, in the legislature, within the parties and in the 1966 campaign.

The outcome will be important in the continuing conflict within the Idaho-Republican party between the more militant backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater, and those who consider themselves moderate.

The complexion of the legislature will determine whether Idaho gets a sales tax in 1965. It will be a factor in determining which lawmakers, if any, emerge in a position to seek the governor's office in 1966.

The vote will be a test of the old question of whether Idaho is a politically conservative state. With the election over, the state will move quickly into the 1965 legislative session. It promises to be the longest in history and probably the most difficult.

One observer says it will be a "widow maker" with its tough issues requiring lawmakers to take stands sure to win disfavor with many people.

Democrats expect to control the senate, and also retain some hopes for the house. Republicans still hope to control both. A legislature divided between the two parties will find it harder to act than one under single party control, and such a division could prolong the session.

There will not only be division between the parties, but sharp conflict within the parties on a number of questions, including the sales tax, legislative reapportionment, and drawing of new boundaries to equalize population in the congressional districts.

The scars of the debates and votes on controversial questions could dim the prospects of lawmakers interpreted in the governorship. And their concern with winning popular favor could make it harder for the legislature to do its work.

Although Idaho has voted for the Republican presidential nominee in every election since 1948, the state's political complexion has been shifting. It was solidly Republican in the years just after World War II, but is now closely divided.

Democrats have held three of the four congressional seats since 1960 and narrowly missed capturing the fourth two years ago.

This is the year in which Republicans want to halt the Democratic tide, and the year in which the Democrats want a convincing sweep.

No matter how the state goes in the presidential election, a victory in either congressional race would be a big gain for the GOP.

Sen. Barry Goldwater was the enthusiastic favorite of Republican conservatives in Idaho long before he entered the presidential campaign. His candidacy helped them strengthen control within the party through the "strict structure" around the state, and rule the state convention.

A lopsided Goldwater defeat nationally would be a blow to his militant supporters. But if he carries the state, they will remain in a position of strength. If he fails to carry the state, it should help the moderates strengthen their position in the party.

Republican reverses in the legislature would be a blow to Gov. Robert E. Smylie, or other Republicans who may be thinking of seeking state office in 1966.

If Republican nominee George Hansen wins in the second district it would probably end the political career of Rep. Ralph Harding, D., Idaho. But if Harding should win, he is considered a possible senate candidate in 1966, although he says he has no such plans.

The outcome has some significance for party chairman Lloyd Walker, believed to be interested in the senate himself. If Harding wins, and decides to seek the seat in 1966, Walker would have to engage in a battle, or bow out.

The votes will be counted county by county by legislators in drafting bills to realign the congressional districts. Inevitably problems will arise because of Democratic fear that a change will make the first district Republican, and Republican fears that the second will become Democratic.

The winners in the congressional races, whoever they are, will be keeping a close eye on the realignment.

Kidney Is Transplanted By Surgeons

DALLAS, Nov. 7 (AP)—A team of surgeons Thursday was transplanting a kidney between 16-year-old identical twin girls in an operation at Parkland Memorial hospital.

The twins are Nancy and Mary Freeman, the blond daughters of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Freeman, Fort Worth. Freeman is an electrical engineer and General Dynamics.

The twins may be the youngest ever involved in a kidney transplant. The transplant operation usually takes about six hours.

Mary Freeman was born with underdeveloped kidneys, an ailment called "hypoplasia." As a result, pounds while her sister, Nancy, weighs 100 pounds.
